

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Group A:

James E. Bennett, A.A.E. is the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority. In that capacity, he plans and directs the operations of the Authority. He is responsible for airport management at both Reagan National and Dulles airports as well as Authority-wide public safety, business administration, human resources and technology.

Prior to joining the Authority, Mr. Bennett held a number of senior management positions around the country with airports and airport management organizations, and is the current Chairman of the International Association of Airport Executives.

Mr. Bennett holds a B.A. in Aviation Management from Auburn University and an M.P.A. from the University of Michigan.

Paul Bice joined James Monroe Bank during its formation in 1998 as a lender and founding officer in charge of Business Development and Marketing. He has over 24 years of banking experience in Northern Virginia. He has particular expertise in working with small, medium size businesses and professionals, providing a comprehensive banking package to meet both personal and business needs.

Mr. Bice is a member of Loudoun County Chamber Board of Directors, First Vice Chair for the Chairman, Slated to be the Chairman of the Chamber in 2008, Board member of the Salvation Army in Loudoun County, member of the Loudoun County Industrial Development Authority, and Past President of The Friends of the Thomas Balch Library and a volunteer with the Small Business Development Center of the SBA.

Mr. Bice is a graduate of Virginia Tech, University of Wisconsin and Virginia Banker's Association Graduate School of Bank Management at the University of Virginia.

The Honorable Susan K. Buckely was elected to the Board of Supervisors representing the Sugarland Run District in November 2007. She currently serves as the Board of Supervisors' Vice-Chairman, and also serves on the Board's Finance, Government Services & Operations Committee, Joint Board/School Board Committee, and Economic Development Committee.

A native of Middletown, N.J., she earned a Bachelor's degree in business administration (finance) and a Juris Doctor degree from the University of Texas at Austin. She served as an Assistant County Attorney for Fairfax County from 1994 to 1998.

She was founder of the Eastern Loudoun Civic Network, Eastern Loudoun Schools Association and Concerned Citizens of Sugarland Run. She has also served as vice president of the Lowes Island Elementary School PTO, chair of the Lowes Island Playground Committee, coordinator of the Sugarland Elementary School Volunteer Program, and vice-chair of the Loudoun County Commission on Women.

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Robert DuPree is the chairman of the Loudoun County School Board and has represented the fast-growing Dulles District on the School Board since January 2003. Chairman DuPree serves as a member of the School-Business Partnership Executive Council and on the School Board's Legislative/Policy Committee, the Finance, Construction & Site Acquisition Committee, the Liaison Committee with the Board of Supervisors, the Health, Safety & Wellness Committee, and he is in his third year as chairman of the Discipline Hearing Committee.

Chairman DuPree is a former Little League baseball and youth soccer coach in Ashburn. He and his wife, Heidi, have lived in Loudoun County for twenty-three years, and they have three children who are currently attending or have graduated from Loudoun County Public Schools.

Doug Fabboli has worked in the wine industry since 1981 when he took a job at a small vineyard in Upstate New York. After receiving a Business Degree from Syracuse University, he moved with his wife Colleen to Sonoma, CA to work at Buena Vista Winery. In 1997, they returned east to settle in Lucketts. Doug has worked with many of Loudoun's wineries as a consultant or winemaker. In 2005, Doug and Colleen opened their own winery, Fabboli Cellars, to rave reviews of top wine quality and hospitality. Doug is very active in the community with the Lucketts Ruritan Club and the Boy Scouts.

Russell S. Gestl is Vice President of Project Development for Buchanan Partners, LLC, and Executive Vice President of Hubert Construction, LLC. He serves on the Economic Development Commission as the representative of the Washington Airports Task Force.

Mr. Gestl oversees the due diligence, design, approval and development of commercial, industrial and residential land and building development projects for Buchanan Partners. Throughout his career he has successfully completed construction and development projects ranging in volume from $1 million to $30 million and in size from 1,000 square feet to 300,000 square feet. He is a member of the NAIOP Loudoun County Land Use Committee, the Executive Council of NVBIA's Loudoun Chapter, the Suburban Maryland Building Industry Association, Associated Builders and Contractors, and is Chairman of the Route 606 Coalition. He received his Bachelors of Architectural Engineering from the Pennsylvania State University.

Bill Gibson is Director of Business Development for The National Conference Center and is primarily responsible for developing long-term business opportunities through strategic relationships with senior executives at major corporations and federal government agencies.

Mr. Gibson has a wide range of experience as a senior staff member in the marketing of hospitality services. Prior to joining The National Conference Center in 2001, he served as national sales manager for Hilton International Hotels, Director of Sales for Xerox Document University, and Regional Sales Director for Synxis Corporation.

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

A native of Washington, D.C., Mr. Gibson has lived the past 13 years in Loudoun County. Presently, he resides in Purcellville with his wife and two children.

Katie Sheldon Hammler is the appointed member from the Leesburg Town Council to the Loudoun County Economic Development Commission. Before being elected to the Council, she was an appointed member to Leesburg's Economic Development Commission and also served on the Loudoun Convention and Visitors Association Board. She is a member of the Virginia Municipal League's Finance Committee and is the Council's representative to the National League of Cities, the Cable Commission, and previously served on the Parks & Recreation commission. Ms. Hammler is a 2004 graduate of the Virginia Certified Planning Commissioner's Program. She is also active in the community as a coach for Leesburg Girls Softball and as a member of the Board of Directors for the Youth Music Promotion and Preservation Association and the Loudoun Abused Women's Shelter.

A former Captain in the U.S. Army Reserves, Ms. Hammler earned her B.A. in International Relations from Brown University, and an MBA in Information Systems Management from The George Washington University. Identified as an early leader in the web services industry, she has served on the ASP Board for the Information Technology Association of America and as the Vice Chair of the Americas on the Board of the ASP Industry Consortium. She has nearly 20 years experience in marketing, public relations and business development, and currently works on the corporate marketing team for VeriSign, based in Dulles, Virginia.

The Honorable Elaine Walker is Mayor of the Town of Lovettsville. Born in Lovettsville, she has lived all her life in Loudoun. After raising her family, she worked fourteen years for Loudoun County Public Schools. She retired in 1989, and became Mayor in 1990. She represents the Coalition of Loudoun Towns (COLT) on the Economic Development Commission.

The Honorable Scott K. York has served as Chairman of the Board of Supervisors since November 1999. As Chairman, he was instrumental in the passage of the county's revised Comprehensive Plan and Remapping/Zoning Ordinance amendments implementing "Smart Growth" in Loudoun County.

He serves on the Board of Supervisors' Economic Development, Human Services and Public Safety Committees. He also represents Loudoun County on the Northern Virginia Transportation Authority (NVTA) and serves as its treasurer.

Chairman York serves and has served in a variety of regional leadership positions. He was Chairman of the Virginia High-Growth Coalition, which he founded, and currently serves on the executive committee. He has also been Treasurer of the Northern Virginia Planning District Commission and chaired the Northern Virginia Regional Commission. He currently serves on the Executive Committee for the VA Association of Counties (VACO).

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Group B

John E. Bischoff currently works as an independent consultant. He has recently been involved with start up companies, serving as the President/CEO of Attila Technologies. Prior to that, he was involved with a biometric startup named Aurora Biometrics where he served as COO. He spent seven years as an executive at America Online, most recently holding the title of Vice President for Finance and Operations.

Before joining AOL, Mr. Bischoff served in a variety of senior and midlevel executive positions at IBM, spending his last ten years with IBM at the company's TJ Watson Research Lab in Yorktown, New York.

Mr. Bischoff holds a BBA from Pace University, an MBA in Finance from Long Island University and an MS from Polytechnic University.

Jeffrey S. Browning is President of Browning Equipment, Inc., a farm and lawn equipment dealership in Purcellville. Mr. Browning works with traditional farmers, horse farms, vineyards, nurseries, and produce farms, as well as large-lot residential customers and holds the EDC seat representing Agribusiness.

Currently on the Loudoun County Rural Economic Development Council, Mr. Browning has also served the county on a number of Ag-related Boards and Committees. He was the Blue Ridge District representative on the Agricultural Advisory Committee, a member of the Rural Economic Development Task Force (1997-1999) and he sat on the Purchase of Development Rights Design Subcommittee of the Loudoun County Open Space Advisory Committee (1999). Mr. Browning also serves as a Director of the Loudoun Heritage Farm Museum.

Mr. Browning grew up in Loudoun County and was educated at the University of Virginia.

Paula D. Harper was recently appointed Executive Director for Program Development and Management for The George Washington University Ashburn Campus. In this position, she fosters the development of executive and accelerated training and degree programs to meet the needs of residents and regional industry. She serves as a member of the senior leadership team responsible for strategic planning and on-going measurement of the Campus' achievement of its goals and objectives as they relate to the University and the Northern Virginia region. Most recently, Ms. Harper served for nine years as Director of Medical Center Faculty Affairs for the University's main campus in Washington, DC, dealing with programmatic and research issues relevant to industries in the medical sciences and public health fields. Ms. Harper received her BA in Economics from the University of California, San Diego.

G. Kimball Hart is the owner of Hart, McMurphy & Parks, Inc., a small consulting firm serving the commercial and residential building sectors. The focus of his consulting work has been in strategic planning, energy management, and technology assessment. He served for more than a decade as President and is now the part-time Executive Director of the Board of Directors for the Windy Hill Foundation. This not-for-profit foundation, which builds homes in Northern Virginia, has provided Mr. Hart extensive experience in affordable housing development, land acquisition and zoning. He received his MPPM/MBA and B.A. in English from Yale University.

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Mary Gayle Holden has a Dulles-based law practice specializing in real estate and general business law. She lives in western Loudoun and is actively involved in a number of regional and local organizations.

Ms. Holden is President of the Committee for Dulles, a Director of the Loudoun Chapter of the American Cancer Society, and a member of the Loudoun Volunteer Financial Council. She serves as a Co-Chair of the Advocacy Committee for Women in Technology and serves on the Privacy Committee for the Joint Committee on Technology and Science for the General Assembly. She currently is working with the Center for Innovative Technology to help create a favorable climate for nanotechnology businesses to develop in Virginia.

Ms. Holden received her J.D. from the University of Virginia and her bachelor's degree from Roanoke College.

Rick Hurwitt is the Chief Financial Officer for William A. Hazel, Inc., a large local site development contractor.

Since 1989, Mr. Hurwitt has been involved in the financial aspects of the construction and real estate industries.

Mr. Hurwitt completed Leadership Loudoun in 2000 and was instrumental in initiating the Ethics Day program for the Loudoun High School senior classes. He received his bachelor's in accounting from the College of William and Mary and earned an Master's of Business Administration in Marketing from Old Dominion University.

Tamar Datan Johnston is executive vice president of the Amazon Conservation Team, an organization working in partnership with indigenous tribes to advance conservation and sustainable development of tropical rainforests. Previously, she served as vice president of The Nature Conservancy and director of its Compatible Ventures Group, where she advanced sustainable businesses in communities nationwide. Prior to this, she was venture fund officer with The Pew Charitable Trusts, where from 1990 – 1997 she managed a grants portfolio totaling more than $100 million.

In Loudoun County, she is Chairman of the Economic Development Commission, Chairman of the Housing Advisory Board, and President of the Taylorsville Store, Inc., Board of Directors. Ms. Johnston also serves on the Green Advantage, Inc., Board of Directors, and is a member of the Rural Local Initiatives Support

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Corporation Advisory Committee. Ms. Johnston holds a master's degree from Harvard University and a bachelor's degree with honors from Swarthmore College.

Shaun V. Kelley is a Senior Vice President with PNC Bank, N.A. and regional credit manager for PNC Real Estate Finance in Washington, DC. He has more than twenty years of experience in the banking industry, primarily in the area of lending to small and medium size businesses. Mr. Kelley moved to Loudoun with his family in 1997 and has served as a partner with Special Olympics in Loudoun County, as a member of the Steering Committee for the Northern Virginia Chapter of the American Heart Association Heart Walk, as a volunteer with the local chapter of the U.S. Pony Club, and as a member of Loudoun County's Community Services Board. In addition, he served on the Economic Development Commission of St. Petersburg, Florida, and was the volunteer Treasurer of the Boston Housing Partnership. Mr. Kelley received his MBA from Babson College and his BS in Business Administration from Boston College.

Randall L. Kelley is chief executive officer of Inova Loudoun Hospital in Leesburg. As CEO, he has overall responsibility for the only private, non-profit hospital in Loudoun County. Inova Loudoun Hospital has 1600 employees and an annual budget of $210 million.

Mr. Kelley has served in a variety of positions in health care since 1979. Prior to joining Inova Health System in the summer of 2006, Mr. Kelley was President and CEO of Gateway Health System in Clarksville, Tennessee. In this role he led efforts which have resulted in replacement of Gateway's 50 year old facility with a 270 bed hospital slated to open in 2008.

While in Clarksville, he also served in a variety of community leadership roles including YMCA chair, elder in the First Presbyterian Church and chair of the Clarksville/Montgomery County Economic Development Council and as chair of the Clarksville/Montgomery County Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Kelley is a graduate of the University of Michigan and also earned a master's degree in Healthcare Administration from the University of Minnesota. He has also served since 1993 as active adjunct faculty for the University of Minnesota's School of Public Health executive master's program in healthcare administration.

Mr. Kelley is a fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives.

Tadeusz (Ted) W. Lewis, P.E. is Principal of GeoConcepts Engineering, Inc., a geotechnical engineering and environmental services firm based in Leesburg. The firm specializes in evaluating sites for potential development, water supply needs, environmental due diligence studies, and designs foundations and earthwork for office buildings and industrial parks. Since its founding in 1999 with a staff of four, GeoConcepts has grown to a staff of 44. Mr. Lewis currently serves on the Loudoun County Design Cabinet and previously served on the Zoning Ordinance Review Committee (ZORC). He is a member of the National Association of Industrial and

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Office Properties. Mr. Lewis received his MBA from Averett College, and his MS in Civil Engineering and BS in Agricultural Engineering from Virginia Tech.

David McWatters is an Associate Broker at Long & Foster Realtors, specializing in residential sales. He has more than 20 years of experience in residential real estate and is a member of the Dulles Area Association of Realtors, the Virginia Association of Realtors, and the National Association of Realtors.

Mr. McWatters has served on or chaired numerous subcommittees, task forces, and citizenry groups, including Chambers of Commerce, the Board of Trade, and the National Exchange Foundation. Mr. McWatters is a past member of the Loudoun County Board of Supervisors and currently serves on a number of local and regional boards and committees.

Dr. David C. Miles is Chairman of the Miles/LeHane Group, a human resources career management and consulting firm headquartered in the Glenfiddich House in Leesburg. The firm is recognized as an industry leader in human resource consulting with five locations in the Greater Washington area.

Prior to founding his company in 1992, Dr. Miles spent 25 years with Marriott Corporation (Saga) in a variety of top-level corporate positions, including operational management, human resources, finance and administration, training and development, and sales and marketing. As Marriott's Director of Human Resource Development and Training for North America, Dr. Miles handled all activities for a workforce of 130,000 people.

He is a member of numerous trade associations and is a Charter Fellow of the International Board for Career Management Certification (IBCMC). Locally he has served as a board member for the Loudoun County Chamber of Commerce and is an active supporter of community charitable organizations. Dr. Miles completed his Doctorate in Human Resource Development at The George Washington University. He received his MBA from the University of Phoenix and his BS in Hospitality Management from Pennsylvania State University.

Arch A. Moore, III is the Executive Vice President and Senior Lending Officer for Middleburg Bank.

Mr. Moore completed the Leadership Loudoun program in 1995. His community involvements over the past eleven years include Loudoun Youth Soccer and Basketball Coach and board member for Notre Dame Academy, Bluemont Concert Series, Shenandoah University Advisory Board, and the Oatlands Board of Directors.

Mr. Moore received his MBA from West Virginia University.

Joseph G. Paciulli, a Licensed Land Surveyor, is Partner and Vice President of Paciulli, Simmons & Associates, Ltd. As Manager of the company's Leesburg office, he is responsible for the conduct of all work in Loudoun County.

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

A resident of Loudoun County, Mr. Paciulli has served on several local boards and committees, including the Loudoun County Affordable Dwelling Unit Advisory Board, the Loudoun County Zoning Ordinance Suburban Area Focus Group, and the Loudoun Chapter of the Northern Virginia Building Industry Association.

He holds a B.S. in Business Administration and Management from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and has continued his education with courses in surveying, law, marketing and management.

Mary K. Porter is the founder and owner/operator of the Curiosity Zone, a unique business that focuses on developing hands-on science curriculum, toys and entertainment products for kids. Ms. Porter also founded a consulting firm that worked with rapidly growing businesses to develop and implement creative product, marketing and growth strategies. Prior to that, she was a business unit manager at Onvia.com, a Seattle based Internet company. There, she founded and built one of five business units instrumental in driving the company's $240 million IPO. Ms. Porter also practiced commercial litigation for four years with the international law firm Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher.

Ms. Porter is a member of the Loudoun County Chamber of Commerce and has made significant volunteer contributions in the area of elder law, including founding the Advocacy Group for the Elderly at UVA Law School and serving as pro bono counsel for the Elder Abuse Prevention Program in Denver. She holds a BA in Government and a law degree from the University of Virginia.

Deborah Rochkind Deborah Rochkind is a partner at Venable LLP, where her practice focuses on complex real estate transactions, including acquisitions, dispositions, leasing and subleasing, and development. Prior to joining Venable, Ms. Rochkind served as Director of Real Estate and Records Management for America Online, Inc. (AOL), where she oversaw the company's worldwide real estate portfolio consisting of approximately 5,000,000 square feet, with 55 domestic leases, 17 international leases, and 2,500,000 square feet of owned real estate. She was responsible for all of AOL's worldwide real estate transactions and managed a budget of over $30 million. Ms. Rochkind also directed AOL's Records Management Program. Ms. Rochkind served previously at AOL as the Assistant General Counsel for Real Estate, Leasing and Finance. Before AOL, Ms. Rochkind was an Assistant General Counsel at Clark Enterprises, Inc. and an Associate at Arent Fox in Washington, D.C.

Ms. Rochkind is currently serving a second three-year term as a Commissioner for the Loudoun County Economic Development Commission. She was Vice Chair of the Commission in 2007 and Chair of the Commission's Transportation and Infrastructure Committee in 2005 and 2006. She is also a member of the Commission's Executive Committee and currently serving as the Commission's Chair of the Nominating Committee. Ms. Rochkind is a member of the Loudoun County Route 28 Tax District Advisory Board and participated in Loudoun County's Suburban Task Force. She is a member of the National Association of Industrial and

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Office Properties (NAIOP), and CREW. Ms. Rochkind is also Vice President of the Board of Directors for The Alternative House, a refuge for abused and homeless children in Northern Virginia.

John B. Wood is chairman, chief executive officer, and president of Telos Corporation. He has led the company's transformation from a ruggedized hardware integrator to a leading provider of network-centric, government-validated enterprise security solutions. He is also treasurer and member of the board of directors for Project Rebirth, a non-profit organization that is chronicling the strength of the human spirit in coping with the aftermath of September 11, 2001, at the World Trade Center. A time lapse film of the rebuilding of Ground Zero frames the year-by-year development of the lives of ten 9/11 survivors. Project Rebirth is the only living record of the minute-by-minute development of the site, and will be a component of the WTC Memorial Museum and archived in the Library of Commerce. He was appointed by the Secretary of the Interior as a board member for the National Forest Foundation. Mr. Wood has a B.S. in Business Administration in Finance and Computer Science from Georgetown University.

Wood has been an active member of the business community, championing the concept of civic entrepreneurship. He is the founding chairman of the Loudoun County CEO Cabinet, a membership organization comprised of a select group of CEOs, Presidents, Board Chairs/Vice-Chairs from Loudoun County's top corporate and entrepreneurial firms and non-profit/government institutions. The CEO Cabinet is committed to ensuring that Loudoun County is one of the top twenty places in America in which to live, work, and grow a business.

Appointed Advisory Members (Group C)

Linda R. Erbs is director of the Loudoun office for William H. Gordon Associates, Inc., a land use consulting firm. She was formerly Vice President of Planning and Zoning for Greenvest and worked fifteen years for the Loudoun County Department of Building and Development as chief of Engineering and Environmental Services.

Ms. Erbs serves on the Board of Supervisors' Facilities Standards Manual Technical Advisory Committee, Fiscal Impact Technical Advisory Committee, and as chairperson of the Water Resource Technical Advisory Committee.

Ms. Erbs is also a member of the American Planning Association, Urban Land Institute, Engineers and Surveyors Institute Loudoun Committee, Northern Virginia Building Industry Association, and serves as Co-Chair for the Loudoun Government Affairs Committee of the National Association of Industrial and Office Parks.

She graduated from the University of Wisconsin, where she studied business and journalism.

Alice P. Frazier is Senior Vice President and Area Executive for BB&T, the largest market share bank in Loudoun County. Ms. Frazier joined BB&T in May 2007 after sixteen years with Middleburg Financial Corporation, where she most recently served as Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. As BB&T's Area Executive she serves as the senior banking officer in Loudoun County and is the market leader responsible for coordination, management and optimization of all commercial banking functions.

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Ms. Frazier serves on the board of directors of Loudoun Cares, the executive council of Loudoun School Business Partnership Committee and as a trustee for Loudoun Education Foundation. She also serves on the Virtual Realty Tour committee of the Loudoun Chamber of Commerce.

Ms. Frazier obtained degrees from the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at the University of Delaware, Radford University, and the University of South Carolina Graduate School of Banking Investments.

M. Scott Mingonet is Vice President of Kimley-Horn and Associates, an engineering and land planning consulting firm, and he has overseen several of the firm's projects in Loudoun County. Mr. Mingonet boasts 18 years of experience in the field of landscape architecture and planning. He also serves on the Loudoun County Design Cabinet and on the Chamber of Commerce. Additionally, Mr. Mingonet is a member of the American Society of Landscape Architects, the Urban Land Institute Council on Public/Private Partnerships, the American Planning Association, and the Congress of New Urbanism.

Mr. Mingonet received his Bachelor of Landscape Architecture from the University of Florida.

Cheryl Moore is the chief operating officer for the Howard Hughes Medical Institute's (HHMI) Janelia Farm Research Campus. Her portfolio includes strategic planning, budgeting, staffing, and overseeing all operational aspects of the campus's activities.

Before joining HHMI in March 2004, Moore was senior vice president and chief operating officer at the Burnham Institute for Medical Research, a private, nonprofit life-sciences research center in La Jolla, California. A graduate of the University of San Diego, she has also held positions as Vice President of Strategic Relations, Vice President of National Contracting, and Vice President of Finance at various health-care companies and was a certified public accountant at Deloitte & Touche, LLP.

Moore is involved in numerous community and industry activities. She currently serves on the board of the Virginia Biotech Association and has been appointed by the Governor's office to the board of the Virginia Biotechnology Research Park Authority.

Robert C. Steere is Principal of Steere Consulting Partners, LLC, in Leesburg and formerly served as Chief Operating Officer of the Loudoun County Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Steere also serves on the Board of Directors of Loudoun Interfaith Relief and is the chairman of Fall into the Arts: A Leesburg Fine Arts Event.

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Mr. Steere received an MBA from The Peter F. Drucker and Masatoshi Ito Graduate School of Management at Claremont Graduate University and a B.A. from the University of Utah in Salt Lake City.

Standing Advisory Members (Group D)

Kirby Bowers has served as the County Administrator for Loudoun County since 1992. Mr. Bowers has been employed by Loudoun County government since 1977 and has served as Assistant to the County Administrator, Budget Director and Assistant and Acting County Administrator.

Before joining Loudoun County, he was employed in the budget office of the City of Rockville, Maryland, and as an economic analyst for Senator William Brock of Tennessee. Mr. Bowers holds a Bachelor's degree from the University of Maryland and a Master's degree in Public Administration from American University.

Dr. Edgar Hatrick is Superintendent of Loudoun County Public Schools. A 1963 graduate of Loudoun County High School, Dr. Hatrick began his teaching career there in 1967 and held numerous teaching and administrative positions with LCPS before becoming Superintendent in 1991.

He is active in numerous community organizations, including the Chamber of Commerce, the School-Business Partnership Executive Council, the Rotary, and the YMCA, among others. In addition, Dr. Hatrick was named the "2002 Citizen of the Year" by the Loudoun Times-Mirror.

He holds a B.A. in English from the University of Richmond, a Teaching Certificate from the University of Virginia, and an M.A. and Ed.D. (Educational Administration) from Virginia Tech.

Betsy E. Self is Chairman of the Loudoun County Industrial Development Authority, Chairman of the Purcellville Board of Zoning Appeals, Vice President of the Purcellville Library Board, Vice-President of the Monroe Technology Foundation, and a member of the Joint Trust Fund Committee for Work Force Housing, the Dulles Area Associations of Realtors, and of the Rotary Club of Purcellville. Ms. Self holds a bachelor's degree from Lynchburg College.

Robin Suomi is Director of the Loudoun Small Business Development Center. The center assists and educates new and existing business to increase their chance for entrepreneurial success. In addition to one-on-one counseling with Loudoun businesses, the Center provides more than 46 seminars annually. These services are free and confidential.

Ms. Suomi is a member of the Loudoun County Chamber of Commerce and serves on the Advisory Board of Old Dominion University.

She received her bachelor's degree in Management from George Mason University and her MBA from The George Washington University. She has lived in Loudoun County since 1995.

Economic Development Commission Member Biographies

Members Emeritus

Joseph L. Boling is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Middleburg Financial Corporation, the holding company for Middleburg Bank, a $750 million community bank, Middleburg Trust Company, a private trust and investment management company with $600 million under management, and Middleburg Investment Advisors with $650 million under management.

Mr. Boling worked for Crestar Bank, now SunTrust, for 23 years prior to coming to Middleburg Bank. During his tenure with Crestar, he was President and Chief Executive Officer of the Staunton, Virginia, region from 1978-1984, and Senior Vice President and Manager of the Financial Institution Division from 1984-1993.

Having received his bachelor's degree in history from North Carolina Wesleyan College in Rocky Mount, North Carolina, Mr. Boling also earned a graduate degree from CBA Graduate School at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Virginia.

Mr. Boling served in Vietnam, during which time he received three Bronze Stars for Valor, Combat Infantry Badge, Valorous Unit Citation, Legion of Merit, Meritorious Service Medal and Army Commendation Medal. He retired in 1994 from the U.S. Army Reserve, after 28 years of military service.

Mr. Boling's civic and professional activities include being a Rotarian. He received the Paul Harris Fellow Award from Rotary International in 1996. He serves on the Board and is past president of the Virginia Bankers Association. He served as Chairman of the James Madison University Foundation and served on the board of the Loudoun Healthcare Retirement Trust. He is also a founding director of the Piedmont Community Foundation and serves on the Windy Hill Foundation and Loudoun County Economic Development Committee.

J. Randall Minchew is Managing Partner at the law firm of Walsh, Colucci, Emrich, Lubeley, & Walsh in Leesburg and practices primarily in the areas of land use regulation, zoning, and eminent domain. In his 21 years as a land use attorney, Mr. Minchew has represented landowners in over thirty jurisdictions between Washington, DC and Richmond, Virginia.

Randy holds a bachelor's degree in Public Policy Studies from Duke University and a Juris Doctor degree from the Washington & Lee University School of Law. He has done post-graduate work at Magdalen College, Oxford in constitutional law and jurisprudence and at the Virginia Theological Seminary. Randy was a founding member of the EDC back in EDC 1994 and chaired the Commission during the 1996-1997 period. He presided over the Rural Economy Task Force and the Loudoun County Bar Association and currently is District Chairman of Loudoun County Boy Scouts, Loudoun's largest youth organization with over 4,000 members.